

Mechanotherapy – treatment via exercise done with special devices. The aim of mechanotherapy is to influence on specific functions of musculoskeletal (locomotor) system of a person.

Mechanotherapy is successfully used in treatment of various diseases. Recovering of weakened or obviously limited movements of body is done by means of special training simulators.